SERVING DETROIT

buildOn engages 715 students every month across Detroit, who to date have contributed more than 365,000 hours of service to our Detroit community. Through buildOn's Service Learning Programs, high school students in Detroit are empowered to take on the most pressing issues in their communities through direct action.

By helping seniors, the unhoused, and younger children, buildOn Detroit students are learning to lead by first learning to serve.

These same students have also worked side-by-side with community members to construct schools in some of the poorest countries on the planet.

98% of students who participate in buildOn programming graduate high school.
